Approved for external information
Document ID: DH-3333:2020

Summary

EP-3337:2020 NCTS – Document Library v2.39

The National Clinical Terminology Service (NCTS) document library contains documentation and other resources related to the understanding, use and implementation of the products and services provided on the NCTS website. It is updated on an as-needed basis, when new or updated resources become available, or when existing resources need to be withdrawn.

New

Terminology Requirements for Electronic Prescriptions and Active Ingredient Prescribing webinar	This webinar is recommended for suppliers of prescribing software and dispensing software. It provides information about the terminology requirements that will be mandated in an upcoming version of the electronic prescription conformance profile and active ingredient prescribing guidelines. It also covers common terminology implementation approaches and methods for accessing SNOMED CT-AU (which includes the AMT).
Terminology Requirements for Electronic Prescriptions and Active Ingredient Prescribing presentation v1.0	This presentation accompanies the “Terminology Requirements for Electronic Prescriptions and Active Ingredient Prescribing webinar”. Topics include a brief overview of Electronic Prescriptions (EP) and Active Ingredient Prescribing (AIP); terminology requirements; implementation approaches and considerations; and accessing SNOMED CT-AU data.
